electrical impulses to stimulate your heart to beat. If these impulses are disrupted, you may need an artificial pacemaker. Depending on your condition, you may have a pacemaker with one to three flexible, insulated wires (leads) placed in a chamber, or chambers, of your ...

Pacemaker - Mayo Clinic

A pacemaker is composed of three parts: a pulse generator, one or more leads, and an electrode on each lead. A pacemaker signals the heart to beat when the heartbeat is too slow or irregular. A pulse generator is a small metal case that contains electronic circuitry with a small computer and a battery that regulate the impulses sent to the heart.
