Dynamic Programming is a method for solving a complex problem by breaking it down into a collection of simpler subproblems, solving each of those subproblems just once, and storing their solutions using a memory-based data structure (array, map, etc). Each of the subproblem solutions is indexed in some way, typically based on the values of its input parameters, so as to facilitate its lookup.

Dynamic Programming vs Divide & Conquer vs Greedy. Dynamic Programming & Divide and Conquer are similar. Dynamic Programming is based on Divide and Conquer, except we memoise the results. But, Greedy is different. It aims to optimise by making the best choice at that moment. Sometimes, this doesn't optimise for the whole problem.
