Written like a thriller, even though you know the outcome Vulcan 607 keeps you on the edge of your seat as this feat of both airmanship and logistics unfolds. From cannibalising other aircraft for navigation and electronics components, reviving a dormant refuelling system and training the crews how to use it, to organising a relay involving half the RAF's tanker fleet to get just one bomber on target, this is an astonishing operation.

Vulcan 607 The Epic Story of the Most Remarkable British ...

The author of Vulcan 607, Rowland White, claimed that Vice Admiral Juan Lombardo was led to believe that Black Buck One was the prelude to a full-scale landing by the British. As a consequence, he ordered Rear Admiral Gualter Ailara [es], the commander of the Argentine Sea Fleet, to immediately attack the British fleet.

Just finished reading this book "Vulcan 607". It's an incredible story. The longest bombing run ever carried out. The bombing of the airfield at Port Stanley on the Falkland islands in 1982. I won't spoil the detail's; but it is a riveting read. 8,000 mile round trip over the South Atlantic. Extreme courage and a lot of luck (some good and some not so good!)
